

Artificial Satellites

Coordinator: Pierros Papadeas

The Working Group monitors artificial satellites in orbit around the Earth, along with the development of software and hardware for such activities. Furthermore, there have been contributions to the development of a network of ground stations for satellite communication, along with contributions to the first open source satellite.

Articles related to the WG: